

Phosphate Free Products

Phosphate is an element that is frequently used in cleaning products. It is a naturally occurring nutrient that is vital for plant growth. The problem is that when it gets into our waterways it is also a fertilizer and causes what's called an algal bloom. The algae grows like crazy and use up the oxygen in the water, which kills the fish or forces them to leave the area.

The following is a list of products that are phosphate free. There are lots more available. They'll either say 'phosphate free', or you can check the ingredients to see if it's listed.

You can also consult <https://www.epa.gov/saferchoice> for a list of products that use ingredients that are safer for human health and the environment.
